The coastline is 972 km long along with the Coromandel Coast between the Eastern Ghats and Bay of Bengal. This coastline has rich agricultural land due to the delta-- Godavari Krishna river and Penna. It is surrounded by the Indian states of Maharashtra in the north and Karnataka in the east and south, with the Arabian Sea forming its western coast. It has one Major Port and 5 Minor Ports. 9- West Bengal The coastal plain of West Bengal is located in Purba Medinipur and South 24 Parganas district and has a coastline Long 158 km. Rice is the main cultivation of the region after plantations of legumes and coconuts. The Sundarbans delta in West Bengal is the largest mangrove forest in the world. Goa soil is rich in reddish aluminum oxides. India has a coast of 7516.6 km² of continental coast and 2094 km of island territories. It is bounded by the mountain range of Western Ghats to the east, from the Arabian Sea to the west, from the Daman Ganga river to the north and from the Gangavalli river to the south. It also has important maritime ports - Tuticorin and Chennai, fishing ports, Marina Beach (the largest natural urban beach in India) and Gulf of Mannar Marine National Park. 3- Andhra Pradesh The state of Andhra Pradesh has the third Long long coastline in India and is located in the Andhra coastal region. It starts from the south-western coast of the Maharashtra and along the coastal region of Goa, through the entire west coast of Karnataka and Kerala and reaches Kanyakumari. It is home to many beautiful beaches in the world. This region has Lake Chilka (the largest lake in the country), the ancient Kingdom of Kalinga, the beaches (Chandipur, Gopalpur, etc.) and Bhitarkanika (the second largest mangrove ecosystem). The Indian coast touches nine states: Gujarat, Maharashtra, Goa, Karnataka, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Odisha, West Bengal and two territories of the Union: Daman and Diu and Puducherry. The coast of Malabar is famous for the beautiful scenarios, tea plantations and coffee, beaches, brackish water lakes, etc. Because the soil is rich in minerals and humus, it favors agriculture. Agriculture is the main economic sector of Western Bengal. It borders the Utkal plains to the north, the Bay of Bengal to the east, the South Kaveri delta and the eastern Ghats to the west. Rice, potato, jute, sugar cane and wheat are the main cultures of Western Bengal.
